Corporate Profile

ComputeZero combine people with culture and technology to deliver world class IT services, support and solutions in the UAE.

ComputeZero

Technology is a vital cog in the modern wheel of success. Your organization will depend on the reliability of workstations, wireless, cloud applications, operating systems, email, servers and web pages to power either some or all of what you do.

It's not until something goes wrong that you will consider either your current method to fix it or that you would benefit from expert advice.

ComputeZero possess industry leading certifications, supply innovative technology solutions and deliver service level agreements that are tailored to your needs for proactive and swift problem response.

ComputeZero are laser focused on customer experience; helping you control costs and reduce the risk when it comes to technology.

Technology Support, Services and Solutions

Your organisation has plenty to worry about without having to focus on information technology. ComputeZero can professionally plan for any type of information technology project, economically source the right solutions, expertly deliver the project and proactively support all of your information technology needs so you can concentrate on you core activity and ensure business continuity.

There are a multitude of companies that supply an overlapping range of technology solutions that cause confusion. Planning for anything from server virtualisation to an operating system upgrade is essential to meet your expectations. ComputeZero will professionally ensure your project delivers the business value you're expecting.

It's easy to be deterred from investing in something that could have a transformative effect on your operation because you perceive the cost and complexity to outweigh the value delivered. ComputeZero will simplify the process of selecting right solutions economically.

It's frustrating when the sales team have handled your enquiry well and your full of confidence but the project delivery and aftercare service phases are a combination of under skilled staff, broken promises and bad communication.

ComputeZero is an enthusiastic team of people with varied skills, clean clothes, nice smiles and most importantly; fantastic spirit, a servant's heart and the right attitude.
